Climbing in the Himalayas

Craig was introduced to the Himalayas while serving in the Peace Corps and has returned twice to climb there.

MEMBERSHIP LIST ADMINISTRATION CHANGES

by Bert Cripe, newsletter editor

THE club recently purchased a new computer printer, a Canon BJC-5000 and a three year extended service agreement at a total cost of ~$250. The two major reasons for this purchase were: First, the new printer will print on 11 x 17 inch paper, which allows me to print the addresses directly on the newsletter after it returns from the print shop. This eliminates the cost of mailing labels and the time and work of attaching the labels each month by the hard working volunteers. An added bonus is the ability to print small posters, in full color, to announce club events such as programs we sponsor for the public. And secondly, to separate my personal printer use and expense from the club's.

TO MAKE this new procedure work I have assumed the maintenance of the membership database. For several years Jim Luddon has performed this function and printed the Penwicle mailing labels. Jim has worked behind the scenes without recognition and I suspect most members are totally unaware of his contribution to keep the club running. In an e-mail, Jim wrote: "It has been a privilege to help out PWC. If we all do a little, a lot gets done." So, we all owe him a big 'thank you' for his contribution to make this club a wonderful, rewarding experience. Thank You Jim Luddon!

WINTERFEST

Friday - Monday, February 12th - 15th

Contact: Bert Cripe (895-4299)

This winter the event will be held at Rainier Overland Lodge near Ashford on the road to Mt. Rainier National Park. The Lodge consists of seven rooms, three specialty rooms, and two cabins—all non-smoking. It can accommodate 30 people with more accommodations available next door at the Nisqually Lodge.

Room rates vary from $45 to $70 with the cabins going for a little more. The cabins have kitchens, full baths, and wood/pellet stoves.

Reservations should be made as soon as possible by calling the Lodge at (360) 569-0851. They accept Visa, MasterCard, and Discover Card and require 48 hours notice to cancel a reservation, should that be necessary.

The facility's restaurant can be opened for our use if we make prior arrangement. Breakfasts and dinners will be buffet style. More on the menus later when the information is made available to us.

For those new members and others who may have forgotten, Winterfest is a time to celebrate the beauty of the chilly, dark season by getting out into the snow to ski, snowshoe, and just play. Additionally, we gather in the evenings around the fire to relate our tales of the day's activities, get acquainted with new faces, and just have a good time. To make this possible, the dining room will be available for our use. Many bring hors d'oeuvres and wine or beer to share in the evening with friends.

Rainier Overland Lodge is located in the heart of the Mount Tahoma Trails system (the office is at the lodge) and Mt. Rainier National Park is just a few miles to the east. If you would like to try snowshoeing this would be a good opportunity to borrow or rent a pair.

SNOWSHOEING AT SNOQUALMIE

Saturday, February 20th

Contact: Steve Vittori (377-1869)

Steve will lead a snowshoe trip somewhere near Snoqualmie Pass. Snowshoe rentals are available at Mt. Constance.

SKI TO COWLITZ ROCKS

Saturday or Sunday, February 20th or 21st - Intermediate

Contact: Doug Savage (698-9774)

This trip is weather dependant-if Saturday is bad the trip may go on Sunday. Doug will ski from Paradise up Mazama Ridge to Cowlitz Rocks, a distance of about 7 miles and 2500 feet of elevation gain. This trip requires intermediate cross country ski ability but not telemark ability.

MT. WASHINGTON CLIMB

Sunday, February 21st - Technical

Contact: Dale Boyle (792-1714)

Once again it is time for the semi-traditional, sporadically annual, Washington's Birthday climb of Mt. Washington. Unfortunately, Washington's birthday is on a Monday, so we will be climbing on the eve of his birthday, February 21st. We will leave from the Gorst park and ride at 7:30 am on the 21st.

If there are enough climbers we will converge on the summit via several routes. I would like to do both Route One and Winter Direct, and perhaps more if the situation permits. In any case, the less experienced climbers will be roped with more experienced climbers.

SNOW BOWL HUT SKI OUTING

Saturday, February 27th - Intermediate

Contact: Tony Abruzzo (377-5103)

This trip is full, but Tony is taking names for the alternates list, in case of cancellations alternates will be called. Contact Tony to add your name to the list.

CROSS COUNTRY SKIING IN YELLOWSTONE

February 28th to March 4th

Contact: Alice Savage (638-2597)

As of the January meeting the trip was filled - contact Alice, someone may cancel out.

For this five day package, a snow coach will pick us up at West Yellowstone and transfer us to Canyons Skiers Yurt Camp situated in the middle of Yellowstone Park, a quiet and peaceful setting with no crowds.

The camp consists of two yurts, which serve as the kitchen, dining, and social center, and is surrounded by six, two person tent cabins heated with propane. The outhouse is heated (are you listening Don Paulson) and there is a sauna. Hot water will be provided for showers.

Cost is $688.25 per person, which includes all meals, lodging with bedding, ski guides, and use of the snow coach to take us to remote areas for skiing. I plan on driving to West Yellowstone but one can fly to Bozeman, Montana where convenient bus service will take you to West Yellowstone. Some of the animals we can expect to see are bison, elk herds, trumpeter swans, coyotes, and possibly a fox or two. There will be a full moon at this time that will offer lovely night skiing.

After the yurt camp, we plan to spend a night at Old Faithful Snow Lodge to ski and check out the more concentrated thermal activity surrounded by snow.

Last Month's Door Prizes: Two prizes were awarded: Brett Allen won a pair of gaiters and Matt Sinn won a rain hat. The monthly door prize is donated by Mt. Constance Mountain Shoppe. All members can enter at the Monday night meeting.

RECIPE OF THE MONTH:

- 1 C Tabouli Mix
- 1/4 C Sun Dried tomatoes, diced
- 1/4 C Dried porcini mushrooms
- 2 small Dried hot peppers
- 1 T Parsley
- 1/4 C Olive oil
- 1 Clove chopped, fresh garlic
- 1/4 C Pine nuts

Twanoh Tabouli
by Penny Watson & Lee Jensen

1. Add one cup water and the oil to the Tabouli Mix in a plastic bag.
2. Allow to soak until water is absorbed....it stores well.
3. Hydrate tomatoes, mushrooms, peppers, and parsley for 3-5 minutes in "enough" water.
4. Dump everything into the bag...mix, and enjoy.

Suggested Variations:

- If your trip is short, fresh parsley is a nice choice, as well as diced cucumber or radish.
- About 45 minutes before camp, stop to add 1/4 C water to the dried tomato and mushroom mix. It will be ready when you arrive.
- For ease of measure this recipe is in 1 C units. Three cups will make an adequate entrée for two.
- Our favorite accompaniment to compliment this meal and round out the nutritional value is to use very thin slices of Porcini mushrooms and roll them around a stick of Sharp Cheddar.

PARKING AT MONDAY MEETINGS

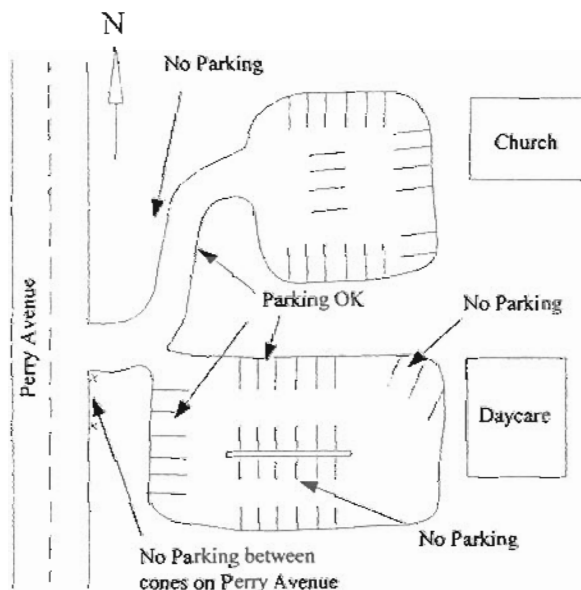

PARKING is still a problem for some; the map below may help. It shows where parking is permitted and where it is not. Do not park on Perry south of the driveway.

To alleviate parking congestion, members and guests are asked to carpool from the Fred Meyer parking lot on Riddell Road (about a mile from the Fellowship). This can be easily accomplished by simply pulling into the parking lot off Riddell Road, and looking for a ride!

THE upper parking lot at the Fellowship belongs to the Learning Tree preschool. The spaces on the south half, and the two spaces closest to the northeast corner, are reserved for Learning Tree clients, who come and go up until 11 o'clock at night. We are welcome to use the spots on the west side (along the road) and on the north side.

DUE to fire regulations, parking on the driveway can be on one side only, the downhill direction. In the main parking lot only regular, lined, spaces can be used (i.e., no "creative" parking, which could cause access problems).

PARKING on Perry Avenue can be hazardous, since cars parked near the south side of the driveway block the view of drivers attempting to enter Perry Avenue. Cones will be set along Perry to mark the 'no parking zone.' Everyone is encouraged to "double up" and drive from Fred Meyer. Pull into the south side of the Fred Meyer parking lot before the next meeting, and see who's there for you to carpool with! Make new friends!

OPINION

by Joe Weigel, Entertainment Chairman

I WOULD like to clear up any misconceptions that may have arisen from a letter to the Editor in last month's Penwicle. A fairly recent slide show presentation on wolf reintroduction in the Olympic mountains was given, simply for entertainment and informational purposes only. Whether the club has a neutral stance on issues or not has nothing to do with the entertainment or information presented to our group at our monthly meetings. This is entertainment and education, not a statement of the club's position on an issue. I, as the entertainment chairman for the club, have no agenda and there is no double standard concerning the P.W.C. meeting entertainment.

PROGRAMS are provided for the meeting as per the club's by-laws-"The purpose of the club shall be promoted by meeting monthly to conduct business and share information through slides, movies, demonstrations and speakers..." I have always striven to bring a variety of speakers with a diversity of topics and presentations to our monthly meetings, with no eye towards a particular viewpoint or "politically correct" angle. Every person and/or program that has become available to us, through whatever means, has always been considered. I am always open to any P.W.C. member who has slides to show or knows of a speaker to provide us with a presentation.

I, along with the club presidents, have decided against some programs because of their expense. Money is always a consideration when I book a speaker. I have also been reluctant to book politicians, for what I believe to be obvious reasons, even though I would like to hear what some of them have to say on various topics. Other than the aforementioned reasons, I have never rejected anyone because of who they were, their viewpoint or their prospective program, unless they were obviously not of interest to our group.

ON the same subject, I would like everyone to be aware that the entertainment chairman is not an elected position, and since I have been doing the job for over eight years now, I would be happy to turn the reins over to anyone who feels he would like the challenge or feels he could do a better job. I am not trying to retain this position forever. I wasn't elected, appointed, or hired. This is strictly voluntary work. I would welcome a solicitation for the job from any interested member. Keep in mind that it isn't always easy to come up with something and it does take some time and effort. I might add, however, that I have never left the club high and dry. There has always been some sort of program or entertaining diversion for the Monday meeting.

Members are welcome to submit their opinions for publication in the Penwicle - Editor

BOGONG WITH THE BLOKES

by Nancy Meyer

Day 1 EITHER it was a really short ski season this year or I slept through most of it. Luckily I got in on a wonderful three-day ski tour on the Bogong High Plains with five blokes - Gerry, John, Mick, Neil, and Peter. On the last Friday in August we began our backcountry tour just south of Mt. Hotham, on foot for several kilometres down the Brandy Mine Track to the Cobungra River. Some hours later and seeing how we had to barefoot it across two channels of the recently melted snows of the Cobungra River, we decided to eat lunch. Tearing ourselves away from this lovely meadow and fuelled for the climb up Paling Spur, we inched (or should I say "centimetred") our way to higher elevations generously offering each other food and water for it was early in the trip and our packs were heavy. Finally a mid-afternoon treat - we reached the snow! There's nothing like skiing on a windless day on untracked by humans high country snow. And here were my first snowgums with their twisting rainbow bark glowing in the late afternoon sun. These look like brumby tracks over here. All too soon this wonderful skiing ended in a zippy little downhill run to the hut just as the sun was setting. The next treat of the day was the winter camp set-up. A grassy patch for the tents, an outhouse and a cattleman's hut. We spent a relaxing evening cooking tea and enjoying the warmth of a simple fire. The patched weatherboard planks and tin roof shelter were downright cozy on this long winter evening. No problem sleeping tonight - just adjust your sleeping position to curl up around the lumpy grass tussocks and let the trickling rivulets lull you to sleep.

Day 2. SATURDAY was another perfect day and we skied the high plains with light packs. Yahoo! Lots of flat with a few gentle ups and downs to practice the Telly turns. Time to gape at the view, name distant peaks and get our bearings. The day couldn't have been better except to eliminate the obnoxious helicopter toting people from ski area to ski area. During lunch we almost decided to climb the "mountain that needs a new name" but chose to head back in a wide loop instead. At one rest break we spotted a hungry fox. What's that you say? There's a shorter route to this area? And we decided to go the long and difficult way because ... ???! We avoided the World Series Kangaroo Hoppett Ski Marathon and lots of folks. (I think we saw a few taking a shortcut in the helicopter.) A bit of silence finally towards late afternoon and 8-9 brumbies were seen grazing in the distance. Now a satisfying ski down to camp whilst dodging snowgums and returning again at sundown. Dry socks and hot drinks were welcome comfort as we stoked our fire and made tea. Two brumbies stood as sentinels in the saddle down the eastern valley. This evening's entertainment included competition for chief fire fiddler (they both lost), naming all the backcountry huts in Victoria and NSW and who could name all fifty States in the U.S. (I won.)

Day 3 More sun with clouds moving in by mid-afternoon to tell us it was indeed time to go home. The challenge of the day was managing to stay on one's feet while navigating the way downhill between trees with a full load. Not an easy task. Lunch time found us discussing the retirement advantages for postal workers. (Joke) A few more breaks and a scramble up Swindlers Spur sans skis at this point. We investigated two more huts on the way out all the while dreaming of the next trip. Thanks for a great Aussie Alpine experience, guys!
